Jane McCrea killed, 1777. ENGLISH CAPITALISTS AMERICAN ENTERPRISES. There must be something very fattrac-

tive about this ["tariff cursed country" for British capitalists. They like to invest their money here. They have a great liking for American enterprises, especially those that yield big dividends. A protective tariff does not Portland, in which he showed that freeseem to have any terrors for trade England was plastered all over British money. In tact it seems to like it. Within the past few months English capitalists have been seeking to buy up various industries in the United States.

They are not satisfied with the beautiful free trade system of England, and want to come here and place their money where "robber tariff" rules the country. After trying to get control of breweries, salt works, natural gas lands, sugar refineries, lumbering companies, the English capitalists are now after the steel works. A Pittsburg dispatch breaks the news that "one of the most gigantic schemes ever manipulated in this community is at present being operated sub rosa. A syndicate of English capitalists are making efforts to purchase all the steel works in this city." One of the members of the large steel works of Pittsburg says that "the object of the Englishmen is merely to obtain a controlling interest in [a number of steel concerns of reputation. If they held a majority of the stock they could take it to Europe and manipulate it with profit. the local owners still retaining a working interest in the plants and managing them. have to do that or run."

This shows how favorably English capitalists look upon American industries as an investment. There has been a general move all along the line by foreign capitalists for the control of certain industrial enterprises in the United States. There is quite a significance in this fact. It is pretty evident that British capitalists have more faith in the fature of this country under a protective tariff than they have of England under free trade.

INTEMPERANCE AT MONONA The usual quarrel at the Monona Lake assembly took place on Friday over the third party question. Whenever the roasting. There won't be much of the third party prohibitionists begin to talk on their favorite theme, then something like an evil spirit enters into them, and it breeds mischief. The meeting was a "monkey and parrot" sort of an affair. It was the same old question of prohibition and non-partisanship, resulting from the fact that Mr. Mills' lecture this afternoon, instead the things the great of being a temperance address, was a prohibition stump-speech. After a great "Yes, I am a hard amount of hairpulling, a resolution was worker. I hardly adopted unanimously setting forth that the stockholders were violently opposed four hours per day, to any partisanship on the grounds, in either politics or church, and that the matter would be guarded against in the future. I have often known and sleeping less, I have often known he could not maintain his self-respect him, when I was a boy, to sif up all night and hold his position on the board of directors with Mr. Hastings. Mr. Colman further said that the professed position of the assembly on the third party question was never observed, and therefore made them the laughing stock of the fair-minded man quite sick of such work on the part of the third party politicians belonging to the assembly. It is no place to talk politics. It is no place to work up a malignant party spirit. It is no place to insult the intelligence of the best christian and temperance people in best christian and temperance people in the state. It is well enough to have a ' temperance day," but it should not be the laboratory. Some time ago I had turned into an intemperate day by the political prohibitionists.

It is a great pitty that a finer christian spirit cannot prevail at the Monons Lake assembly on the question of temperance. Whenever the matter comes up for dis-cussion there seems to be some one and in the corners. We employed watchready to play the part of a mischiefmaker. This ought not to be. The assembly is an honor to the state. It is a great work in uplifting the people in both a 'spiritual and educational sense, and nothing of the scenes of Friday, and in fact which are enacted every year, should be permitted; and when the assembly adopts a resolution declaring its opposition to any partisanship in temperance, politics, or religion, it should stand by the record.

The Philadelphia Press wisely says: "Free-trade England is covered with trusts, and new ones are springing up every day. There is no more unadulterated nonsense than the assertion of the free-traders that the tariff is responsible for the trusts. If it were not for the tariff we should be at the mercy of foreign trusts, who could easily break down our home manufactures and thus get control of our market."

This statement is corroborated by the speech of Mr. Blame made last year at LONDON, July 27.—The royal wedding took place at 13 o'clock Saturday in Buckingham palace chapel. The service was fully choral and was solemnized by the archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the dean of Windsor, the Rev. Edgar Shephard, sub-deacon of chapels royal; the bishop of London, the rector of Sandringham, the edean of Westminster, and the bishop of St. Albans.

The Princess of Wales, with the Princesses Victoria and Maud of Wales, and the Princes Albert Victor and George of Wales, and the chief officers of the Prince of Wales' household, in three carriages, drove to Buckingham palace shortly before 11:45 o'clock from Marlborough house, escorted by the field officers' escort of Life guards. The route, which was lined with troops, was via the Mall and St. James park. The carriages were drawn by richly caparisoned horses.

The other Princesses who acted as bridemaids were driven in the royal carriages to the palace previously. At 11:45 the Queen lett her private apartments in Buckingham palace for the bow-room, where after her majesty's arrival, the procession

The carriage he used was of great magnificence, being that which has only been used by the Queen on occasions when she has opened Parliament in person.

The ceremony over, the wedding breakfast was served in the supper-room in CHICAGO, July 27.—Another matrimonial engagement that will interest society has been reported. It is announced that Miss Helen Newell, daughter of John C. Newell, general manager of the Lake Shore railroad, will marry James A. Garfield, second son of the late President Garfield. The young lady is a prominent belle who is much admired for her personal attractions and accomplishments. It seems likely, however, that Chicago society will loose her, as her prospective husband is enggaed in law practice in Cleveland. Those who know him speak highly of his talents and character. It is not yet known when the marriage will take place.

Washington, July 26.—The postoffice department has just allowed a claim for compensation for extra work that will effect the 7,000 letter-carriers went int effect May 24, 1888. It specifically states that: "If any letter-carrier is employed a greater number of hours a day than eight he shall be paid extra for the same in pro portion to the salary now fixed by law. Glassie, an attorney of this city, filed the claim before Postmaster Ross, by whom it was referred to the department. Glassie has other claims on hand which he will at once file before the department. This application is said to be the first prosecuted to success, the difficulty having been in the fact that the law did not provide any machinery for its execution.

Contract-Labor Decision.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The Secretary of the Treasury has decided an interesting OUR TAILOR MADE SUITS question arising under the alien contract labor law. It seems that Irwin & Sellers of England who have a branch house in New York city, recently sent over a bookkeeper in the home office to take the place of a discharged employe in the New York office. The solicitor of the treasury decided that as the book-keeper had clearly come to this country under a contract this opinion and instructed the collector at New York to compel the book-keeper return to England.

A CALIFORNIA "BEST MAN" ELOPES.

Shooting Affray Follows by Which Both Lose Their Lives--The Criminal

CHICO, Cal., July 27. - An elopement which occurred here a few days ago culwhich occurred here a few days ago cul-minated in a tragedy to-day. A wedding was to have taken place last Monday be-tween Raymond Bierce, son of a San Francisco journalist, and Miss Eva Ad-kins, a beautiful lady of 17 years of age. Bierce's most intimate friend was a hand-some young man, Niel Hubbs, and he was to have acted as best man at the wedding coremony. The day before the marriage was to take place Miss Adkins left her home and went to a neighboring town with Huobs, where the couple were married. They returned here the next day and this morning prepared to make a call upon the bride's mother, Mrs. Barney.

Bierce heard of the intended visit and went to Mrs. Barney's house before them.

When Hubbs arrived with his wife Bierce entered the parlor and fired at Hubbs with a revolver. Hubbs fell to the floor, but as he fell he also drew a revolver and fired. Four shots apiece were fired, when Hubbs ran out of the room. Bierce then placed the revolver to Mrs. Hubbs' head and fired, inflicting a severe but not dangerous wound. Hubbs re-entered the room and beat Bierce to the floor with his revolver. bierce then dragged himself to an adjoin-ing room, placed his pistol to his head and blew his brains out. Hubbs was shot through the abdomen, the ball penetrating the spleen. His recovery is doubtful.

LOOKS BAD FOR BURKE Indications That the Prisoner Will

Winniped, Man., July 27. —The argument in the Burke appeal case has closed, and, judging from the remarks of the judges as the lawyers for the defense proceeded with the arguments, there is practically no doubt that Judge Bain's decision will be sustained and that Burke will be delivered over to the Chicago officials within a few days. All the way through the judges seemed to lean toward sustaining the views held by Judge Bain. Senator Kennedy was in court and sat beside Burke's lawyers all the time, occasionally prompting them and ap-parently taking the deepest interest in

Carter is said to be one of the most notorious horse-thieves in New England, one of his exploits having been the theft, transfer, and sale of all but three of a carload of horses in Vermont a few years ago. Ho has been in confinement for horse-stealing almost constantly during the last fifteen

SANTA FE, N. M., July 27.—Deputy Sheriff Warren Mcore was shot and killed this morning at Wallace, N. M., by Joseph Chacha. He then fled to the hills, pursued by Moore, and, when closely pressed, turned and killed the officer. He was himself overtaken by an angry crowd and riddled with

THE STATE OF TRADE.

Fair Volume of Business Reported--- A Week's Financial Wrecks. New York, July 27.—Bradstreets', in its review of the week, says: "Only an average demand and moderate distribution in general trade made the last week, and show a continuance of those conditions. Crops at the South are promising, and for some days the like has been true in the Northwest, where a wheat crop is now expected equal to that of 1888. Excessive heat has decreased the volume of general business at New Orleans.

The prospects and indications of heavy railroad traille cause a decidedly better tone and recovering prices in stock specu-lation at New York, though without much increase of activity. Bonds are dull. Money at New York is easier. Breadstuffs prices have been higher, and the demand prices have been higher, and the demand for speculation and export generally more active. With free arrivals of raw sugar and freer offerings, prices have given way a cent when sellers withdrew from the market. Dry goods commission men at New York report steady but moderate demand for cotten and woolen goods.

"Business failures number 221 in the United States this week against 170 lest United States this week, against 170 last week and 217 this week last year. Canada had 20 this week, against 16 last week. The total of failures in the United States Jan. 1 to date is 5,646, against 5,911 in 1888."

PRESIDENT. The effects of mental shock on the mind in causing permanent had health of mind are easily inflicted in the period of infancy, early life and school life, of which let one illustration suffice, says a writer in Longman's Magazine. A gentleman who for many years was under my observation as a confirmed mental invalid, a strong man BASEBALL.

SUNDAY REST. Physiological Reasons for Ceasing from Labor One Day in Seven. The question of Sunday work has, of course, a moral side, and it is that side which most strongly influences many who are trying to lessen the evil, says he American Machinist. Physiologists are universally agreed that men need, for purely physiological reasons, one day's rest out of the seven. There is plenty of evidence upon this question, all pointing in the same direction, and the conclusion is inevitable that the almost universal desire of workmen for rest on Sunday and their strong objection to working continuously every day, is the result of a natural physiological law, which, like all other laws of the kind, cannot be violated without some one having to suffer the penalty. There is good reason for believing that many railroad accidents are directly traceable to physical and mental exhaustion of trainmen, caused by the strain of severe and exacting duties performed with-out relaxation for a period of time beyond that which is allowed by nature. And in the case of street railway employes, who are required to work from twelve to six teen hours every day, Sundays included, it is probable that society suffers and will suffer a large share of the penalty. For the presence in the community of a considerable body of men to whom civilization means almost if not quite nothing, upon whom society has imposed burdens almost intolerable and infinitely heavier than art imposed by nature as a condition of living -we say that the presence of a body of men living under such conditions is a menrecord. My day's work ends with the day, and after sunset I just sit around without my coat and yest. THE PHONOTELEMETER.

Science Enriched by a Wonderful In plement Invented by a Frenchman. Capt. Thouvenin of the French army has devised an instrument which he calls the "phonotelemeter," which is intended to be used in estimating distances from the time taken by sound to travel. The instrument consists essentially in a stop watch fitted with second dial at the back, which dial is marked in kilometers and seconds. In addition there is a mearsuring wheel at the rim of the watch, connected with a separate hand or index. The front dial contains distances marked on two concen trie circles from 1 to 20 kilometers and 1 to 15 kilometers, which correspond to the scales of 1 to 100,000 and 1 to 80.000 respectively. To ascertain distance from the map it only neccessary to set the index to zero and run the measuring wheel along the route on the map between the two points, the distance of which is required. The distance can then be read off on the front dial. For purposes of orientation a small compass is put into the winding knob of the watch. To use the watch for ascertaining distance by sound the second hand is started at the moment when the flash of a gun is seen and is stopped when the

Radical, and Permanent,

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of tastes of sight, of hearing, the human voice, one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its cestructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force. and injures the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physiciats, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his kadital. Cure has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing, and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell and taste, and neuralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver, and kidneys.

To the Editor. JANESVILLE, Rock Co., Wis., July 26 statements made with regard to the oldest settler, and doubts been thrown cut as to who is the oldest settler, I will make a statement of facts with regard to that subject. On the 10th of November, 1835, my brother, A. W. Pope, and myself started out to find a suitable claim for a farm. Belvidere, crossing Turtle Creek about a mile above Beloit. If any person was here shead of the time I have stated it was John Inman, now of Kansas, or some one I have never known. It is stated in the history of Rock County, that on the 15th day of November, 1835, that John Inman, Thomas Holmes, William Holmes, Joshua Holmes, Miles Jones and George Follmer started from Milwaukee with an ox team and arrived on the 18th day of the same month opposite the big rock at Monterey This I know to be incorrect, like many other statements in the socalled history of Rock county, as Wm. Holmes and George Follmer were here the 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th and the morn ing of 18th of November, 1835; and they told me that they came to Rock county about the 18th or 20th of September, 1835. They had, I should think, about 10 acres broken on the flat west of what is now Burr Robbin's show grounds which is undoubtedly the first prairie broken in Rock county. There is much of vital interest of the true history of Rock county, which has never been written, which I am fin hopes may some day be seen on that page.

CIRCUS ROUND-UP

Eleven Thousand People Under the Forepaugh Canvas.

A VERY GOOD EXHIBITION.

The Police Harvest—No Robberies or Disorderly Conduct to Report.

About three thousand people attended the exhibition of the Forepaugh show last evening, the performance being similar to that of the afternoon. The exhibition was good, some portions excellent, very clever work being done by several of the performers. Some of the acts were open to considerable severe criticism, yet as a whole, to one not wanting the earth for half a dollar, the performance was first class and gave perfeet satisfaction.

Hundreds lingered around the tenting grounds to see the "pick up" of the show and its move to the cars, which was a 'free show' in itself, all working with clock like regularity. The streets were full of people until a late hour to view the procession of heavy wagons on their way to the cars, bound for Rockford, at which "Yes, we had fully eleven thousand

There were between the second in the series entitled "The seven and eight thousand [people pres-Condition of the Soul Between Death ent at the afternoon performance, and and the Resurrection." about three thousand in the evening. We had a tig crowd at Waukesha on Thursday, but I think Janesville takes the prize. Yes, the 'old man,' (meaning the elder Forepaugh,) is well pleased with the attendance, and you may rest assured that if the show comes west next season Janesville will be on the route. Good bye, I may come up and spend Sunday with my family," and so saying, Mr. Watt hurried for the depot to catch the Rockford train.

"We saptured and lodged is jail yesterday thirteen tough looking and suspicious individuals; no general charges will be made against them," said Marshal Hogan this morning. "I have not heard of any pocket picking or burglaries, and I think if there had been any I should have known it by this time. We had five extra men on the force yesterdey and were around all the time and did not give parties an opportunity to work their games. I caught one fellow un on the grounds just [as he was commencing to work his game and took him down to the jail. I then told the crowd that if they were swindled out of their money to report to me and I would see that they got it back. This had its effect and no further attempts were made as I can learn. I have turned some of those I arrested out to let them get out of town. The others will be given a chance to get out of town this evening. I think the city has been extremely fortunate. The town full of strangers and no complaints made." And the marshal turned to discuss with Health Officer Palmer, the question of authority in burying a dead borse which had been shot inside of the city limits, the city having no "bone yard" for such
